Description

NEC has tailored the warranties to best match the demands of the applications. Most NEC Display Solutions are available with standard and or additional warranties including extended or specific warranties dedicated to the education market or long term extended warranties. Most NEC display products are supplied with generous performance guarantees out of the box, however NEC recognizes that warranties need to match the expectations of its customers and therefore offers a wide range of warranties that can be added at the point of purchase or during the product's standard lifecycle.
